

Custom-Built Assessments for Any Business

FOR EXAMPLE:

The Organizational Health Index.

Organizational Health refers to how well things are going in your job, your department and in the organization as a whole. The purpose of this instrument is to let express your views and opinions with regard to specific descriptions of the way things have been going on around here. Completing this form should take about a half-hour, but there is no time limit. A series of 101 Descriptor Phrases is used.